Overview:

- The app provides offline data collection features, as well, where the collected data is stored locally on the user's device which can be uploaded to the server once online. However, to load the map and other layer features, internet connection is required. Thus, it is recommended to pre-load all map features for the area if internet connection is not available in the field.

- Once the data is uploaded successfully, it won't be visible on the user's device.
